Dear colleagues:

The V International Conference FOR THE WORLD BALANCE, will meet at the Havana Convention Center, Cuba. In this edition, the Symposium “FOR THE PROTECTION AND CONSERVATION OF THE SEA THAT UNITES US” will take place, to which you are cordially invited. On this occasion, the participation of scientists, educators, sociologists, economists, businessmen, policy managers and other professionals linked to coastal and marine sciences, innovations, services and technologies will be promoted.

The main themes are:

- Coastal Marine Biodiversity and Conservation
- Climate change and extreme events
- Development of nautical and recreational activities
- Human impacts and risk management
- Protected areas and national parks
- Strategies for the integrated management of the coastal zone
- Environmental education in the United Nations Decade for Sustainable Development 2021-2030

Scientific Program

The Scientific Program will be developed in different modalities. Master conferences will be given by experts of recognized national and international prestige. The development of round tables, panels and oral presentations that will be selected from the works received is also planned. The modality of presentation will be defined by the Scientific Committee in correspondence with the defined topics.

Working Languages

The working languages will be Spanish and English. Simultaneous interpretation will be offered during the plenary sessions, as well as in those rooms of greater thematic relevance.
