International Symposium NATURE AND HUMANITY

As part of the scientific program of the V International Conference FOR THE WORLD BALANCE, to be held in Havana from January 24 to 28, 2023, organized by the José Martí Project for World Solidarity, delegates to this event will also be able to participate in the International Symposium "Nature and humanity", a space convened by the Antonio Núñez Jimenez Foundation and other organizations and institutions, with the co-sponsorship of other Cuban and foreign organizations and institutions.

This symposium has the following purposes:

- ❖ Delve into essential issues for the survival of the Planet such as the harmonization between the well-being of humanity, the preservation of the environment, peace, and sustainable development.
- ❖ Stimulate a universal culture that interprets the man-nature dialectical relationship through the analysis and socialization of diverse experiences of community work, environmental education teaching programs, traditional and digital mass media initiatives, and cooperation projects between organizations and institutions for a better world.
- ❖ Contribute to the necessary connection between the different disciplines of knowledge, in particular between the so-called social and humanistic sciences, the natural sciences, and the exact sciences, in order to analyze in a multidisciplinary way, the relationships between human beings and the impact of their cultures on the environment.
- ❖ Examine the links between the economic and social aspects of sustainable development with the recognition of the immense cultural wealth of Humanity.

Taking this into account, its thematic axes will be:

- ❖ Ethics and environment
- ❖ Environmental policy and education
- ❖ For a sustainable world
- ❖ Interdisciplinary and historical perspective of the environment

General information

You can participate with or without presenting a written paper. In either of the two modalities, you will be considered a DELEGATE.

The inscriptions of those interested in participating in one or another modality can be made directly to the Organizing Committee of this Symposium or to the Organizing Committee of the V International Conference FOR THE BALANCE OF THE WORLD, whose call is attached.

All participants in the Symposium will have the right to be present in all the commissions, master conferences and other scientific spaces of the V International Conference's program, as well as in the planned cultural and parallel activities. They will also receive a diploma from the Organizing Committee of the V International Conference with the corresponding academic credits, according to international standards.

Those interested in presenting works at the International Symposium "Nature and humanity" must indicate their interest in participating in said Symposium and send their works to the Organizing Committee until November 30, 2022, to the emails: josemartisociedadcultural@gmail.com, fanjicuba@gmail.com or relacionespublicas@fanj.cult.cu always with copy to the Organizers Committee of the V International Conference: hpardo2006@yahoo.es and hpardo@cubarte.cult.cu.

They must be submitted meeting the following requirements:

- Job title
- Summary of up to 100 words in Spanish.
- Name(s) and surname(s) of the author(s). Institution(s) to which they belong. City Country. Email address.

All speakers must submit the full text of their presentations to the coordinating committee of the Symposium, at the time of accreditation in Havana, so that they can be incorporated into the Memoires of the V International Conference FOR THE WORLD BALANCE, which will be distributed in universities and other centers and networks of research, innovation and activism from different parts of the world.

Accreditation:

The participants will be accredited as delegates to the V International Conference, for which it is reiterated that they will have access to the entire program of this event and will have all the rights that emanate from their accreditation to it. The Accreditation fee, as established in the Call for this plural and multidisciplinary world forum, will be USD 120.00 for delegates and USD 50.00 for accompanying persons, or its equivalent in national currency. Undergraduate students will pay 70.00 USD.
